INVESTMENT WATCH: INDONESIA PASSES BILL TO BUILD NEW CAPITAL CITY: DEADLINE 2024

ASEANS BRIEFING (COPYRIGHT ARTICLE): ECONOMY > TRADE - JANUARY 25, 2022

On January 18, 2021, Indonesia's Parliament passed the Capital City Bill into law meaning the construction of the country's new capital can begin, ahead of the planned relocation from Jakarta starting in early 2024 to East Kalimantan province. The government has also just announced the name 'Nusantara' meaning archipelago - to be the new capital's name.

Indonesia's new capital, which was first announced in 2019, is estimated to cost over US$35 billion to construct. The government will transform the new capital into a low-carbon superhub that will support healthcare and technology sectors as well as promote sustainable growth beyond the island of Java. But the new capital needs major investment for its development and this presents ample opportunities for foreign businesses. The government will fund just under 60 percent of US$35 billion, with the remainder to come from the private sector. President Joko Widodo has assembled a team of political and business heavyweights as part of the new capital's steering committee. These include Abu Dhabi Crown Prince Muhammad bin Zayed Al Nahyan, SoftBank CEO Masayoshi Son, and former British PM Tony Blair.
